With more than 60,000 teachers in NSW public primary schools, high schools, special schools, senior colleges, TAFE colleges and other educational facilities, and another 12,000 retired and student members, the NSW Teachers Federation is the most democratic and representative voice of the teaching profession in the state.

For more than 100 years the NSW Teachers Federation has continued to fight for just wages and conditions, equal pay, Aboriginal education, superannuation, professional standards, a statewide staffing agreement, support for students with disability, teacher housing and education funding among other gains. Membership of the Teachers Federation is a legacy to be proud of and to defend.

Members of the NSW Teachers Federation continue to promote a quality public education system and campaign for improved working conditions to benefit teachers, students, parents and the community.
