

A 374862

AGAINST PARANOID NATIONALISM

Searching for hope in a shrinking society

Ghassan Hage

✍

MERLIN

CONTENTS

Preface
Camera obscura , or the unbearable lopsidedness of being	IX
Introduction	1
Chapter 1
Transcendental capitalism and the roots of paranoid nationalism	7
Chapter 2
On worrying: the lost art of the well-administered national cuddle	22
Chapter 3
Border dis/order: the imaginary of paranoid nationalism	31
Chapter 4
A brief history of White colonial paranoia	47
Chapter 5
The rise of Australian fundamentalism: reflections on the rule of Ayatollah Johnny	69
Chapter 6
Polluting memories: migration and colonial responsibility in Australia	79
Chapter 7
The class aesthetics of global multiculturalism	108

Chapter 8
Exiphobia/homoiophobia: 'Comes a time we are all enthusiasm'	120
Chapter 9
A concluding fable: the gift of care, or the ethics of pedestrian crossings	144
Endnotes	153
Bibliography	164
Index	170