

NSW Teachers Federation Association Women's Contacts

Monday 27 & Tuesday 28 May 2024 & Friday 29 November 2024

Must be able to attend all dates*

Teachers Federation House, 23 – 33 Mary St Surry Hills NSW 2010

9.00am – 3.30pm

This course is part of the Federation's Anna Stewart Memorial Program and is open to women who have been elected by their local Association as the Women's Contact for the Association.

This course will run over three days. The first two days will be training, and participants will design an Association based project to increase the local engagement and activism of women. Participants will then return for the third day to report on their project and share outcomes and strategies.

The course will develop a professional network of participants on the topic of women's leadership and engagement. This will also enable members of the network to reflect on ways to engage effectively as leaders with the wider community.

At the end of this course participants will be able to interpret ethical roles and responsibilities of leadership and reflect on current skills with a view to identifying areas for development.

The course will also enable participants to apply communication frameworks in various contexts and create opportunities for women to develop and contribute to professional networks.

Participants will build productive links and support networks in their Association to increase the participation of women.
