

NSW Teachers Federation
Association Women's Contacts

Thursday 7 & Friday 8 May 2026 & Friday 30 October 2026

Must be able to attend all dates*

Teachers Federation House, 23 – 33 Mary St Surry Hills NSW 2010
9.00am – 3.30pm

This course is part of the Federation's Anna Stewart Memorial Program and is open to women who have been elected as the Women's Contact for their local Teachers Association.

This course will run over three days. The first two days are focused training, and participants will design a project to increase the engagement and activism of women in their local Association. Participants will plan to build productive links and support networks in their Association to increase the participation of women in Federation's activities. Participants will then return for the third day later in the year to report on their project and share outcomes and strategies.

The course aims to support participants to create opportunities to develop and contribute to productive and supportive networks for women's empowerment. The course is intended to develop a professional network for Association Women's Contacts. Members of the network will reflect on ways to engage effectively as leaders within their wider community.
